

PREFERRED DESIGN | THIS WAS ONCE A POND

Parcel 2 Meeting 4: Preferred Design - November 19, 2019

Evoking the history of the site, this design gives the skyline a new foreground, pollinators a new food source, and the neighbors of Parcel 2 a rich green, functional space to rest in, walk past, and explore the story of the site. Integrated seating, moveable chairs, and a sensorially engaging, raised boardwalk are features of this design.

MATERIALS & FURNISHINGS | THIS WAS ONCE A POND

Parcel 2 Meeting 4: Preferred Design - November 19, 2019

The Preferred Design material palette connects Parcel 2 to the rest of the Greenway through furnishings and finishes. The palette will highlight the boardwalk through the use of warm wood. Similar to other parcels on the Greenway, Parcel 2 will reuse "Big Dig" granite for walls and seating. All other furnishings will build upon Greenway standards for continuity and ease of maintenance.

FEEDBACK:

Personally, I love the red tones connecting across examples of the rocks, the wood materials, the trees, the blossoms, the bollards etc.
Overall you all have hit a home run, grand slam! Really lovely. ~~Great~~ says you've won the world series of parks.

PLANTING DESIGN | THIS WAS ONCE A POND

Parcel 2 Meeting 4: Preferred Design - November 19, 2019

The Greenway has introduced rich, vibrant and complex planting into this dense, urban environment. The Park on Parcel 2 will be an extension of that planting palette, a place where neighbors and visitors can come to amble amongst layered plantings of flowers, grasses, shrubs and trees. The plantings will be showy in spring, summer and fall. In winter, beauty is more subtle: the pattern of the Sassafras bark highlighted by the snow, the particular shapes of the seed heads of the Milkweed and Bee balm, with the bright red fruit of the Sumac.

FEEDBACK:

This is really, really wonderful. I appreciate the <sup>maximum</sup> amount of nature and the variety of colors textures + smells.

I really like the flowers, & thank you.
