Roxbury

Roxbury was founded in 1630 by settlers from the original Puritan settlement in Charlestown. Until the filling of the Back and South Bays, it was connected to Boston only by a narrow strip - called the Boston or Roxbury "Neck" - along today's Washington Street in the South End. The town's center was located at today's Eliot Square, named for the Rev. John Eliot, "teacher" of the First Church of Roxbury and translator of the Bible into the Indian language.

Farming was the basis of Roxbury's economy in the community's early years. Construction of the Boston to Providence railroad line in 1835 brought industrial development. Roxbury incorporated as a city in 1846, and in 1868 - minus the areas of Jamaica Plain, Roslindale, and West Roxbury which seceded to form a separate town - became part of Boston in order to obtain improved municipal services.

Like many Boston neighborhoods, Roxbury has been home to succeeding groups of immigrants and residents from different racial and ethnic backgrounds. The English farmers of the 17th and 18th century were succeeded by Irish construction and factory workers in the 19th century, then a large Jewish population in the early 20th century, and a large African-American population in the 1950s.

Commercial activity in Roxbury has long been centered along Dudley Street and Blue Hill Avenue. Open space is provided by neighborhood parks and playgrounds, as well as Franklin Park, which contains the Franklin Park Zoo and Golf Course.

i. Census Geography of Boston

ii. List of P (Population) and H (Housing) Tables in the Summary File 3 (SF3).

i. NOTES TO THE READER

1. Two of the important US Census 2000 data files used in the compilation of demographic reports are Summary File 1 (SF1) and Summary File 3 (SF3). SF1 uses the Short Form questionnaire while SF3 uses the Long Form Questionnaire. Moreover, SF1 is a 100% count giving data to the smallest level of census geography, the Block. SF3 is a sample count of 16% of the population giving data to the Block Group level which is a cluster of Blocks. In the aggregation of SF3 data for this report, the Planning Districts straddle Block Groups boundaries. These will have slightly different numbers from those aggregated using the SF1 data. Total population of the planning district, for example, the South End based on SF1 may show slightly different numbers if compiled using SF3. (See Appendix for a brief description of census geography. Short Form and Long Form Questionnaires can be found on the US Census Bureau website, American FactFinder: <http://factfinder.census.gov>)

2. Because of changes in the boundaries of Block Groups between 1990 and 2000, precise comparison of 1990 and 2000 data on Planning Districts/Neighborhoods is not possible.

3. Racial categories of population are limited to six. Hispanic population may be included in any racial group. White alone population includes Hispanic whites. The category of persons belonging to One or More Races is termed Multiracial.

4. Numbers within parentheses at the end of the table title represent table numbers assigned by the US Census. These table numbers are useful in accessing data using American FactFinder for different types of geography such as a Census Tract or a city. A list of P (Population) and H (Housing) Tables, which provide data at the Block Group level, is given in the Appendix. This report aggregates only Block Group level data as done for all the Planning Districts. However, data available only for Census Tracts can be aggregated to Boston city to generate a more extensive set of characteristics. Complete census tract data can be found on the US Census website.

5. While variables are retained in their original form, some of their class intervals have been aggregated into fewer intervals to make the tables simpler.

6. Some tables include additional derived data such as medians or per capita incomes.

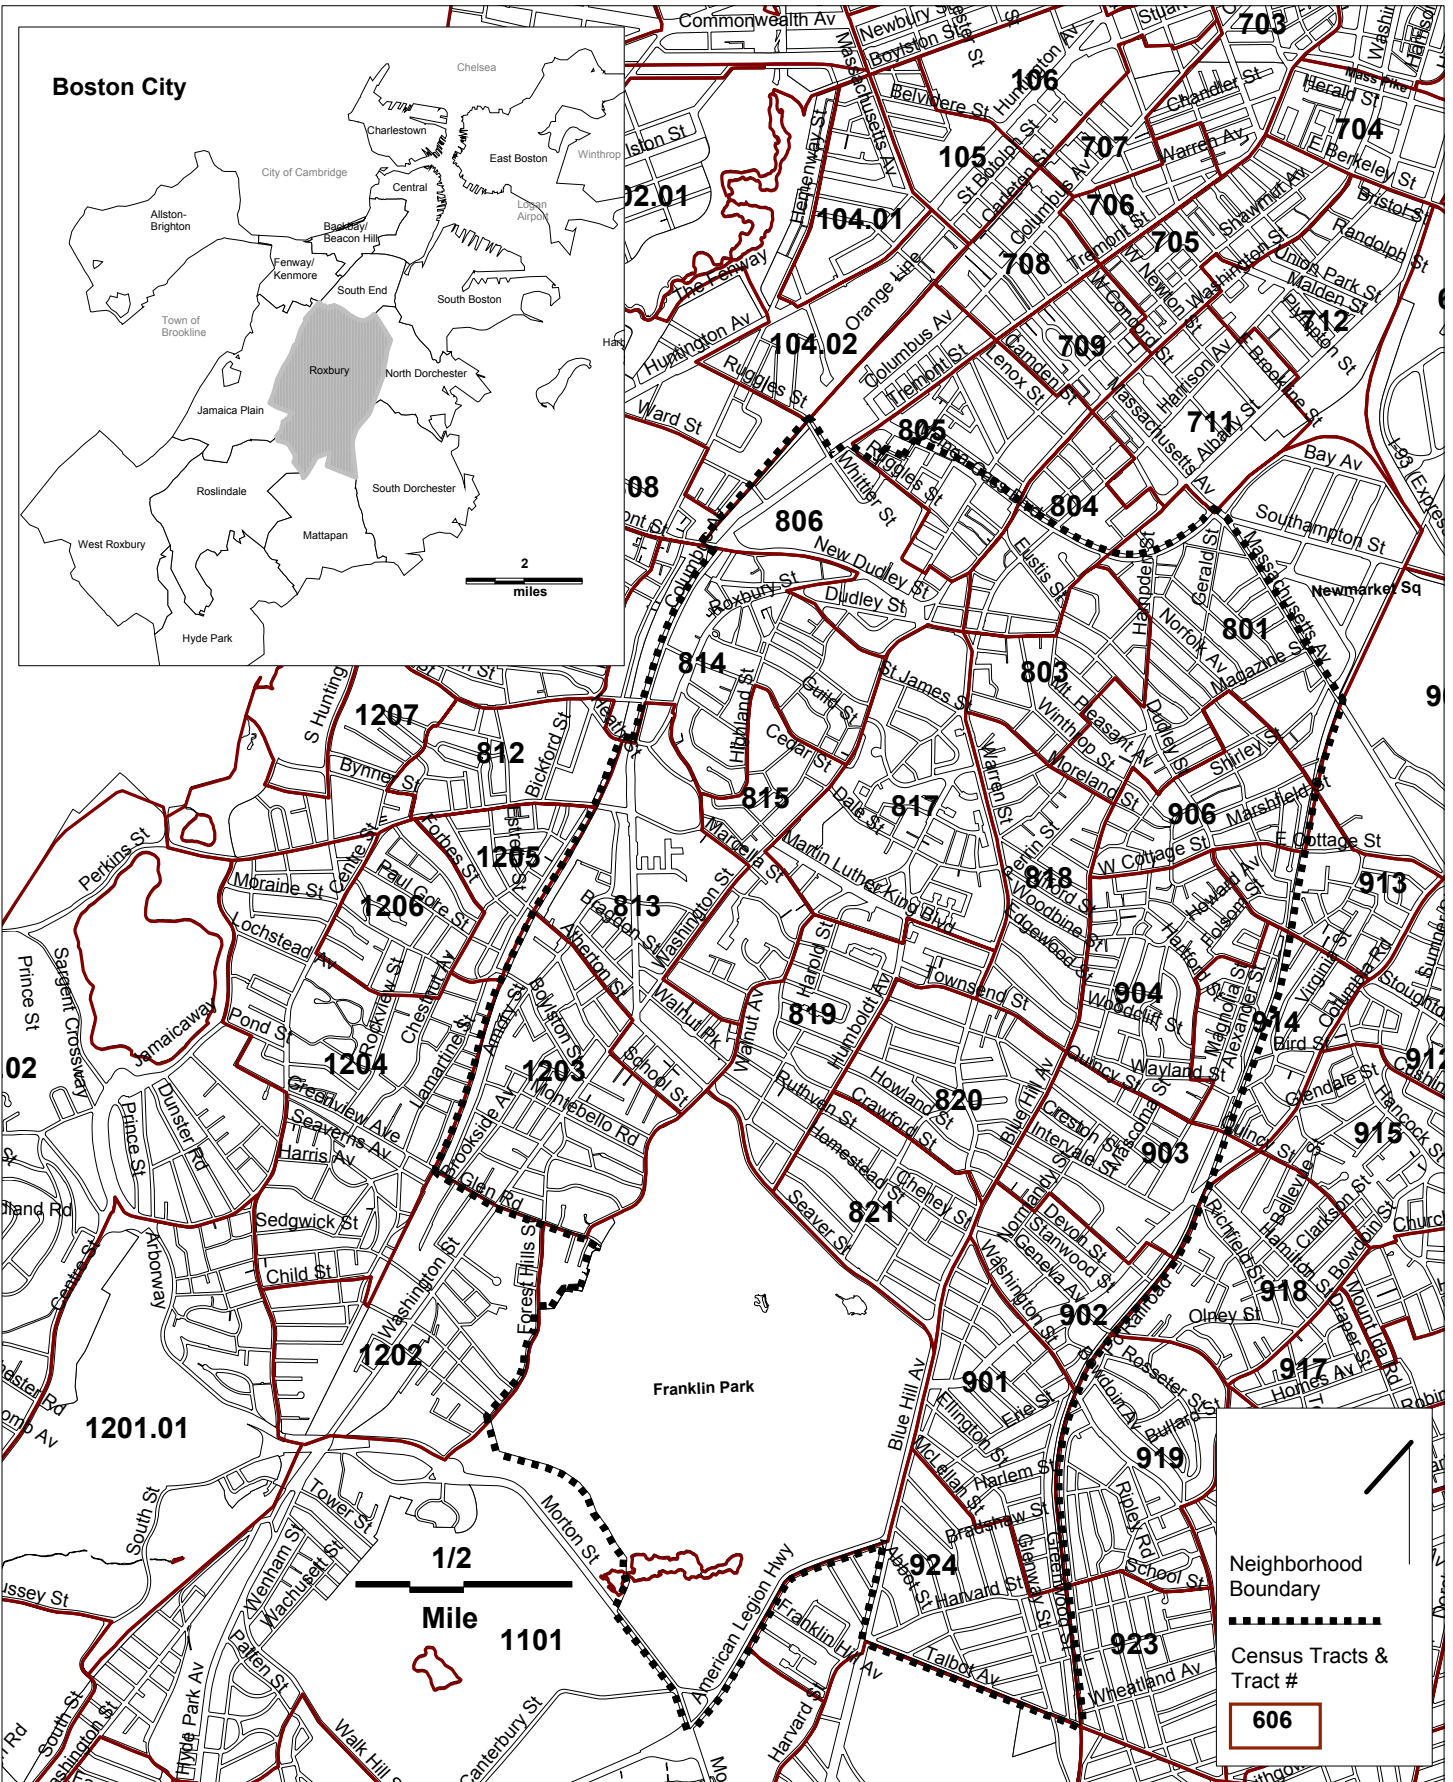

7. For definition of terms, please see "Census 2000 Glossary", which is published as a separate document (Report # 568) by the BRA .

8. Income-related data such as household income, poverty rates, etc. refer to year 1999.
